Norman Granz Stars Please Jazz Buffs in Concert Here

BY GLENN C. PULLEN

NORMAN GRANZ'S all-star recording orchestra brought to many jazz classics a hard-driving, exciting freshness that illuminated its annual concert at Public Music Hall last night.

Making its 14th tour which will embrace Japan and Australia, the troupe's remodeled "Jazz at the Philharmonic" program included 11 of the country's most talented exponents of hot music.

When those rhythms were steamed up by Songstress Ella Fitzgerald, Oscar Peterson's popular trio, Dizzie Gillespie, Buddy De Franco and others, the young jazz buffs rewarded them with roaring ovations. That uninhibited applause sounded sweet to Granz's ears although the size of the small audience disappointed him.

His concert followed the standardized "J. A. T. P." pattern, starting off with explosive renditions of "Flying Home" and "Robin's Nest." After these jivey show-pieces, which the hepcats preferred, Peterson's rippling, cool piano melodies seemed doubly welcome. His superb improvisations and his trio's fine work over-shadowed many of the more flashy soloists.

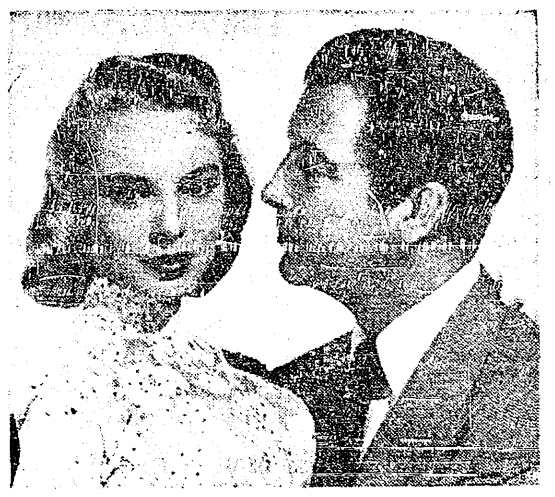
Singer in Good Form

Miss Fitzgerald, as popular as ever, was in excellent voice as she chanted "Man Who Got Away," "Hey, There" and a satiric version of "Hernando's Hideaway." With unusual restraint she avoided "scat" rhythms this time.

A rousing trumpet duet by Gillespie, using his freakish new horn with a curved bell, and Roy Eldridge inspired cheers. Louis Bellson, a young drumming virtuoso, beat the skins as dramatically as Buddy Rich did with the company's quartet.

Fancy instrumental riffs by Bill Harris on trombone, Flip Phillips and Ben Webster on mellow tenor saxophones and Ray Brown, always steady as bass fiddler, also tickled the audience's fancy.

Granz, a very efficient master of ceremonies, revealed that he is sponsoring another concert by Duke Ellington, Dave Brubeck's trio and Jerry Mulligan's unit at Public Music Hall Oct. 22. He also plans to send on tour a Latin-flavored group, featuring Joe Loco, Machito and Carlos Romero, who will stage "Mambo, U. S. A." here Nov. 4.



JANET LEIGH, COSTARRED in "Rogue Cop," which moves into Loew's State today, appears as a night-club chick who plays around with racketeers until Robert Taylor enters the scene. Taylor in the title role is the handsome but crooked detective who gets tougher when George Raft's gunmen burn down his brother.

HEAVY SNOW WHIPS ALPS

GENEVA, Sept. 30 — (Reuters)—The first heavy snowfalls of the season whipped over the Alps today while mountain regions in other parts of Europe reported snow of varying intensity.

Delaware School Board Ousts Negro Pupils in Row

taken over by the state board. Today's action was described by the new Milford board as "an attempt to solve the current issue."

In an announcement released shortly after today's meeting, the new board said in part:

"The Milford Board of Education decided in the interest of the welfare of the children and the community as a whole to remove the 11 Negro students from the enrollment records of the Milford (High) School, effective 3:10 p. m. E. S. T., Sept. 30, 1954. The school assignment and necessary transportation of these children for their future education is the responsibility of the state board of education."

The board also asked the state to provide transportation to take the Negro students to Dover, 20 miles away, to attend a segregated high school.

Await Negroes' Reaction

The immediate question that arose was whether any of the 11 Negro students would attempt to disregard the board's edict and seek to attend classes at the Milford High School tomorrow morning.

Edward F. Steiner, named by the three other members of the new board today to serve as president, said the parents of the 11 Negro students would be handed "advance" copies of the board's ruling sometime this evening and that they also would be notified by registered messenger of the order.

The board's action had been hinted at earlier by Bryant Bowles, head of the National Association for the Advancement of White People. Bowles said this afternoon that the new board was expected to announce the removal of the Negro students from the high school.

Bowles said if the Negroes were permitted to go back to high school classes tomorrow "we will jam the school." He said he meant the boycott of classes by two-thirds of the school's 1,500 white students would end. The stay-away action started last Monday when school reopened after a week-long shutdown caused by fears of violence.

The other Milford School is an all-Negro elementary school, where attendance has been normal.

Attendance in seven south Delaware schools, also in the Milford School district, was reported by state education officials as "pretty badly affected."

The state board had managed the schools since the old board resigned last week. The resignations came after the state board criticized the Milford board for being too hasty in ending segregation.

Dr. George R. Miller, state education commissioner, said all schools are open but noted that fewer students have been reporting each day.

Gov. C. Caleb Boggs, who had urged residents to obey the law, declined comment "for the present."

He was occupied with entertaining Vice-President Richard Nixon at Wilmington, 50 miles to the north. Nixon came to Delaware to speak for the election of Republicans to Congress.

Nixon, however, commented on the segregation issue at a news conference. He said:

"We in America must bring into reality the dream of equality in education, employment and other fields to show the rest of the world our sincerity of purpose so that they will feel free to join our society of free nations instead of the Communist regime. * * *

"Here in Delaware there are honest differences of opinion but I believe these will be reconciled so that the spirit and letter of the law can be carried out."

'Tyranny,' Says Georgians

MACON, Ga., Sept. 30—(UP)—Georgia Democrats voted today to resist the "tyranny" of the Supreme Court's anti-segregation ruling and formally handed over to Marvin Griffin the leadership of their cause.

Griffin, nominated earlier this month to be the next governor, for his part opened a campaign for what he called a "Second Bill of Rights"—a change in the school system to permit private interests to operate it. It will be voted on in the general election.

At a noisy meeting of 6,000 party members, Georgia Democrats agreed that the state should fight the integration of races in schools by setting up a private school system, if necessary. They denounced the Supreme Court and Chief Justice Earl Warren and President Eisenhower as well.

Mr. Eisenhower was criticized for naming Warren to the justiceship and for having Attorney General Herbert Brownell "urge" the Supreme Court to make its historic decision.

Picket Kindergarten

BALTIMORE, Sept. 30—(AP)—A school racial problem erupted here today in the biggest city in the upper south — nearly a month after classes had started with white and Negro pupils mingling peacefully.

The dispute was over a dozen Negro children, aged 4 and 5, attending kindergarten with 50 other white children.

About 12 women pickets, accompanied by two men, marched in front of the school this afternoon with crudely lettered signs protesting integration of white and Negro children.

Principal Clara Crockett said enrollment at the No. 34 elementary school was 558. She said only 168 children attended morning classes and parents came for 35 of these before noon.

There were only 111 children in the school this afternoon. All six of the Negro children attended.

Dr. John H. Fischer, city superintendent of schools, visited the scene today and remarked, "It looks like some of the germs have drifted down from Delaware."

Miss Crockett said the white kindergarten children and the Negro children had gotten along together perfectly since school opened nearly a month ago.

'Ice Capades' Offers New Numbers at Arena

John H. Harris' 15th edition of "Ice Capades," opening at the Arena tonight, will star Donna Atwood and Bobby Specht in nearly a score of new production numbers.

One of them is a condensed version of the Broadway tune-show, "Wish You Were There," in which the locale has been shifted from a Catskills summer resort to a mountain ice rink.

The revue also includes a travesty on "Dragnet," a skating impression of George Gershwin's "American in Paris" and one on "Les Patineurs" by the Ice-Capets. Featured performers are Rosemary Henderson, Bobby Maxson, Alan Konrad, Ken Mullen, Ed Riche, Orrin Markhus, Irma Thomas and Johnny Lettengarver, former Olympic skater.

Scheduled to play 18 days with 22 performances, "Ice Capades of 1955" will have two showings on Saturdays at 2:30 and 8:30 p. m. and Sundays at 1:30 and 5:30 p. m.

TAKING NEW TACK IN 'RELIEF CRISIS'

Cities League Chiefs Talk to Lawmaker Heads

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 30—(AP)—Ohio Municipal League trustees today took a new tack toward relief of impending welfare fund shortages in Ohio.

They conferred with state legislative leaders on future moves.

The league, meeting here for three days, was turned down on a bid for a conference with Gov. Lausche on calling a special session of the Legislature.

Lausche referred the group to Welfare Director Henry J. Robison and said he believed a special session "inadvisable."

Trustees in special meetings later expected to mold a plan of action on the problem for league members to vote on tomorrow, League Director Allen E. Pritchard said.

The meeting today with Ohio Senate President C. Stanley Mechem (R.) of Athens, State Senator Charles A. Mosher (R.) of Lorain and Ohio House Speaker Kline Roberts (R.) of Franklin was primarily a fact-finding session, Pritchard said.

The league director listed Mahoning, Cuyahoga, Franklin, Stark, Hamilton and Lucas Counties as facing welfare fund trouble and characterized the problem as "desperate."

"In another two weeks some will be out of funds," he said. "Our figures indicate that the deficit in local funds would be $3,500,000 by the end of the year."

Industrial Areas Hard Hit

Pritchard indicated also that the more industrialized cities and counties in Ohio were finding the welfare fund pinch the most acute.

The state has funds to pay welfare costs on the present 50-50 basis but cities and counties no longer have funds for their half of the transaction, he went on to explain.

"The legislators said they believed the Legislature would do something about the problem if a special session were called," the league director said.

"The only way to get a special session is for the governor to call one but he said in his letter that he had turned down a dozen other requests for one."

House Speaker Roberts earlier urged officials of the smaller cities to use existing legislation to its fullest extent before approaching the Legislature on municipal problems.

"The door is open but do you know how to go through?" he asked.

"We are anxious for you to let us know if you find the law can't be used. Laws can be changed and amended to solve the problems you have."
