

Brides, Fetes Hold Stage In Sunny June

Brilliant Social Whirl Marks Closing Days of Month Of Roses

By FRANCES HAMEL

Almost without precedent is this June's great variety of social affairs.

Brilliant weddings, dances and dinners for debutantes and brides and innumerable formal and informal affairs for college graduates and many out-of-town guests have combined to make the month of brides and roses a whirlwind of social activity.

If June's first three weeks saw the social calendar filled, the approach of the last week sees it crowded to the margins. Both the younger set and their parents figured prominently in this week's events.

A brilliant affair, preceded by a number of smaller parties in the homes and at the club, was given last night by Miss Sarah T. Nicolls, her sister, Miss Anne H. Nicolls, and brother Frederick W. Nicolls, at the Berkshire Country club. The largest of the dinner parties preceding it, also at the club, was given by Miss Amy Endlich Schaeffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Carroll Schaeffer, of "Haut-bourgh," who entertained 75 guests in honor of Miss Emily Hiestler, debutante daughter of Mrs. Isaac Hiestler, of "Hawthorne."

Luncheon, Swimming Party

Many of the out-of-town guests, members of the younger set, who were here to attend the dances, were included in Miss Schaeffer's list of guests, and also in a luncheon and dinner party which Miss Mollie Foster Cullum, of Riveredge Farms, gave.

Miss Cullum, who has several out-of-town guests, entertained at a buffet luncheon and swimming party at her home, yesterday afternoon, for her guests and those at the Nicolls home. Her dinner party for 15 guests was held at the club.

Mrs. Schaeffer assisted her daughter and Miss Hiestler in receiving.

It was to the taunting tunes of two of America's best known orchestras that the Nicolls guests danced through the night. Duke Ellington's orchestra alternated with Smith Balley's in keeping alive the enthusiasm for the continuous round of fox trots and waltzes.

Entertain at Dinners

Among those who entertained at dinner in their homes were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Roland, Mrs. John M. Frame, Mr. and Mrs. Leon E. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Agnew T. Dice, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Svidenham Ancona. Mr. and Mrs. John S. Harding, Jr., gave a dinner at the club.

Out-of-town guests at the Cullum home are several prominent members of New York and Pittsburgh society, including Miss Cornelia Prime and Miss Lillian Emerson, of New York; Miss Catherine Collin, of Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Kenelm Winslow, William Hartz, Joseph Sawyer, Sherman Rogers, Chisholm Beach and Philip Reed, all of New York; Edward Gwimmer, of Pittsburgh and Julian Fenner, of Tarboro, N. C.

Many From Out-of-Town

Mr. and Mrs. James Kenneth Essaman, the latter formerly Miss Elizabeth Driscoll, came over from New York to attend the affairs, and Mr. and Mrs. John J. Duffy, of Yonkers, were here. Mrs. Duffy will be remembered as Miss Marjorie Sullivan. Mr. and Mrs. John Hagar, of Lancaster, the latter being the former Miss Elizabeth Rick, were also here. Others who returned home for the week-end and to participate in the events are George L. Long, of New York; Fletcher E. Nye, of Boston, and Mr. and Mrs. Hans Nolde, who are summering at Beach Haven.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Leinbach, who have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. William Bentley, of Cynwold, will be hosts over the week-end at a house party for about 50 guests at their beautiful summer home near Douglassville.
