

Here Comes the Duke

Duke Ellington and his original Cotton Club Orchestra will appear in the Madrid Ballroom on Saturday, October 17.

Duke has taken part in many outstanding entertainments and he has established a reputation as a composer and arranger.

Besides being the leader of an orchestra which has revolutionized jazz bands Duke is a composer of note. "The Mooch," "Mood Indigo" and "I'm So In Love With You" are just a few of his many compositions.

Many persons are planning to hear Ivie Anderson, Ellington's blue singer.

People of the dance circle may pleasantly anticipate this event.
