

WITH DUKE AT MADRID

IVIE ANDERSON

Duke Ellington is acknowledged as the foremost Negro orchestra leader in the world today. He will appear in person at the Madrid Ballroom accompanied by Ivie Anderson one of the world's greatest blues singer, on Saturday evening, October 17th.

The Madrid management went to a large expense to secure Duke and it will be his last appearance in Harrisburg and other nearby cities this season.

They played at the Cotton Club, they were Paramount and Palace Theater Headliners, they appeared in Radio pictures and made Victor Records. His song sources, variations are unlimited. Their coming appearance is one of the high lights of the season.
