Observations Of A Traveler

I had a great time at Collinsville, Tennessee, where I went last week to visit the South Memphis district being over which Rev. J. E. Boyd presided with his accustomed ability and skill. I had not been there for years, but met the usual big crowds—where all those people came from I do not know but they came—No dull moments there the entire day. Alcorn who has been sick for many months is improving right along. From Collinsville I came back to Memphis to rest a few days at Collins Chapel Connection Hospital. This institution is under the supervision of Dr. W. B. Martin, and it is marvelous the improvement that has been made with so little support in the past from the church. But now there is an ever increasing appreciation of just what the church should do and the fine opportunity for service to humanity through this hospital There is a fine spirited and carefully trained staff of nurses and the treatment is excellent. While in Memphis I saw the pastor and big crowds at Collins Chapel where Dr. Amos holds sway Bishop Martin was present to the delight of his many friends. Walton, Johnson Bell, Byrd, Reed Walker, Lewis, Douglas and others are alert in the direction of entertainment and recreation. I shall be in the state a few more days yet before hiking for the mountains.

Black Face White Man Jailed At Memphis

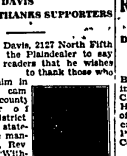
Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 17—(ANP)—At least one white man will think twice before he essays portrayal of a Negro character, whether for fun or for profit. "Honey Boy Evans", alias Maurice Evans, 26 years old, former Chicago white youth, is in jail on charges of disorderly conduct filed against him by the Standard Oil Co.

Evans, who told police his father was a blackface comedian, with "Honey Boy Evans" minstrel show, was dressed like an old time revival preacher. The Chicago youth claimed he was hired to entertain the Standard Oil Executives who were holding a meeting at a local hotel.

Police say the white man "crashed" his way into the conference room and began talking in colored dialect to the amazement of the people assembled. Evans maintained he was hired to do the act.

REV. A. W. DAVIS THANKS SUPPORTERS

Rev. A. W. Davis, 2127 North Fifth street, asked the Plaindealer to say to its many readers that he wishes to thank those who supported him in the recent campaign for county commissioner of the second district. In a direct statement to the managing editor, Rev. Davis said: "This political organization or machine it takes a very loyal man or woman to do that. I have no regret to make. I am still loyal to the republican party as ever and will prove same."



Rev. Davis was defeated by a large majority together with two white candidates by Dr. A. Porter Davis, who led his nearest opponent 1,700 votes.

Dining Car Company Awards Chef Cook

Boston, Mass, Aug. 17—(ANP)—Biggest pension ever awarded a dining car cook or waiter was granted Chef George H. Haywood of the New Haven Railroad by that company as of Aug. 1, 1933. The pension has no connection with the Federal Railroad Pensions' Act passed by the last Congress.

Mr. Haywood lives with his wife and six adult children in their West Newton, Mass. home. He was thirty-seven years in the New Haven's employ.

His pension was made retroactive to May 8, 1934, the day he took sick while on his regular run on the Merchants Limited, and is only 50c a month less than that of a white steward lately pensioned on the Pennsylvania Railroad, most liberal of all carriers in providing from its funds and duties for its retired employes of all classes.

Monarchs

ties had lost, they would have had to come right back for another game. Satchel warmed up during the late innings, but Hunter finished in a blaze of glory by retiring the side in order in the ninth.

Monarchs scored only one run on the Beards in eighteen innings, and that was unearned. Incidentally, no team in the tournament, bar that 14-13 thing with United Fuel, scored more than two runs on the new champions. That record will do!

Billy Joseph, House of David third baseman, broke a finger during infield practice and was taken to the hospital, so Murphy played the position.

It was fitting House of David should wind up with the championship. No team to play here ever has attracted the crowds the whiskerinos have attracted in the last three years They are still the people's choice.

Saturday midnite and Sunday: At last! That sensational, fascinating and exciting picture "Famous of 1934" is here! Full of beautiful songs, gorgeous gowns, and lovely women, see the dan dance—200 beautiful girls performing at once in this sensational pacant of ostrich plumes and little else, and what a cast—William Powell, Bette Davis, Frank McHugh, Verg Teasuale, Hugh Herbert—all brilliant stars! It's the screen's first big story of the men behind the fashions—and the women in them. Don't miss it—It's bigger than 42nd Street and Gold Diggers. Added: Fox News and Comedy.

Monday and Tuesday: Ever popular Jack Holt is teamed with pretty Fay Wray in a typical smashing action story that is sure to make our family night program a hit. "Mills of the Gods" is a picture for the whole family to enjoy, and is the story of a steel-settled man fighting and winning with that utter force of character that Jack Holt alone can portray. Added: "Mystery Squadron" and cartoon.

Wednesday and Thursday: "Ever in My Heart," is just about the greatest women's picture that Barbara Stanwyck has ever made. She is at her very best in a role that far surpasses anything she has attempted thus far, and she will leave men and women alike wet-eyed. With her in this picture are Ralph Bellamy, Otto Kruger and Ruth Donnelly. Don't miss this one—bring the whole family—especially the girls.

Friday and Saturday: Thundering through thrills and danger to take a woman rebel whose beauty took his heart, Buck Jones finds breakneck adventure and breathless thrills as a government scout out looking for "Treason." Shirley Grey is the beautiful heroine who leads the rebel gang and leads Buck a merry chase before he captures her band....and

On The Air

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 17—The white folks down in Atlanta jammed the Atlanta auditorium-armory a couple Tuesday nights ago when Duke Ellington, the aristocrat of Harlem, and his internationally known orchestra and floor show played a dance engagement. He featured the songs that he played in his latest motion picture, "It Ain't No Sin," starring Mae West, and songs from "Murder at the Vanities." Duke is winding up his southern tour in preparation for his European trip about the 1st of September. He is scheduled to appear on a coast-to-coast hookup of the National Broadcasting Company on the "Hall of Fame" program th's Sunday (August 19).

The Royal Cotton Club in Chicago, here has shut down. There Erskine Tate and his band were dishing out the torrid tunes for the cabaret lovers. Among the heavy salaried stars that were released when the doors shut were George Dewey Washington, Mae Alix, Leonard Reed, Hattie Knowles and the Three Midnight Steppers. The plans of the owners of this ritzy night club to have the show aired to CBS studios never materialized.

Jimmie Noone and his band have replaced Ed Carey and orchestra at Johnny Wiley's Midnight Club and continue to broadcast over WINDnightly, Hank Gillum and Clarence Weems are the highlights of the floor show.

The Beale Street Boys are back on their CBS harmony schedule after a trip to Hollywood to make pictures. They are quoted as having said on their return to New York:

"We used to think radio schedules meant a lot of work, arasing, rehearing and hunting up new tunes. But that was before we got to Hollywood. We landed there at 8:30 on a Saturday morning and were immediately rushed to the Universal studios, where we were introduced to people, put to work on a picture and kept rehearsing and working until after midnight Sunday. We got some sleep then and were back at work again Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. We boarded a New York bound train Saturday and here we are. All we saw of Hollywood outside the studios were a couple of hills and some oil derricks."

Noble Sissle and his band broadcast nightly from the French Casino on Chi's north side where they are featuring in the "Follies Bergeres" floor show.

One of Dan Burley's latest compositions will be heard on the air soon. A local harmony team, The Three Plats, are going to feature it. Mr. Burley has written several songs that are beginning to flow from the lips of folk about Chi.

Don Redman and his band invaded Chicago last week and played a theater engagement at the Regal theater. This Redman fellow is truly a polished musician, composer and entertainer. Featured on this bill were Red and Struggzie, singing, dancing and comedy duo.

When Fred Waring was in town last week playing the Chicago theater to capacity houses, he played a popular tune as it would be played by his three favorite orchestras, Paul Whiteman, Wayne King and Duke Ellington. Waring and his Pennsylvanians are favorites of the stage and radio. On one of his first commercial programs about a year ago, he featured "Mandy Lou" who is known on the stage as Miss Artie Bell McGinty.

worked unceasingly in their valiant effort to secure the amount necessary to start the building. To date they have nearly $2,000 in cash on hand and the white citizens have pledged over $6,000 with every assurance that the amount will be reached soon. The board is exercising care in taking advantage of building and material costs. Their contractors are lending every cooperation and assistance in price reductions, and they have instructed that Negro labor be utilized wherever possible, in order to help relieve the needy and unemployed members of the race as much as possible.

Among the number of substantial contributions to the drive was $100 subscribed by the Wichita Fire Department; the local fire chief himself being responsible that the old building was condemned and declared unfit and inadequate to house the inmates of the home.

The home has 35 children in its care between the ages of 3 and 14 years, who are being subsisted entirely by charity; and is a direct beneficiary of the Wichita Community Chest. The work has been instituted a number of years by the colored women of the city. Numbers of unfortunate children have benefited there and were later transferred to boarding schools or placed in responsible homes for adoption.

TWO HELD IN ATTEMPTED ROBBERY

Memphis, Tenn., August 17—(ANP)—Charles Blakeley 14 years old, and W. N. McCoy, 18 years old, of Grenada, Miss., who were captured after an alleged attempt to rob a restaurant at 914 Union last week, are reported to have confessed to the police. Blakeley was shot in the right arm. J. F. Cooper, owner of the lunch stand claimed he saw the two trying to pry open a window and fired two shots at them.
