CHICK WEBB TO ATTRACT AT MIRADOR FRIDAY

BIG CROWD EXPECTED FOR CHICK WEBB HERE

The whole town's talking bout the coming of Chick Webb and his famous New York broadcasting orchestra the Club Mirador this Friday night.

This super attraction, with that personality boy, Chick Webb, is to attract one of the largest crowds of the present dance season, if interest in the affair can be used as a barometer of the size of the turnout.

Not only has Chick Webb one of the finest dance bands in the country, with some of the nation's best-known musicians on his payroll, the atmosphere and setting of the softly-lighted Club Mirador has already proved an alluring spot for Pittsburgh dance-lovers.

In addition to hundreds of local followers of Chick and his musical tricks, a large crowd of music lovers and Webb devotees from McKeesport, Homestead, Duquesne, Rankin, Clairton, the surrounding cities and towns and the tri-State district is planning on attending.

The dance, under the sponsorship of William Herbert, looms as one of the biggest attractions on the program and indications point to a record-breaking crowd to attend the event.

Plans Set For The Gala Opening Of Swanky Willow Beach Labor Day

Bathing Beauty Parade, Swimming, Boating, Fishing And Big Dance to Feature Activities.

Throughout the entire tri-state district they're talking about Willow Beach, that "beauty spot of nature" between Canonsburg and Little Washington, which will be formally turned over into a colored pleasure resort on Labor Day.

"Rube" Wasler and Jimmy Fisher, who will have charge of the place, are planning two days and nights of activity, the like of which has never been seen before, in this section.

Among the attractions which they will present are a mammoth bathing beauty contest, swimming, boating and fishing, and two big dances, with LeRoy Bradley and his remarkable Cotton Club orchestra playing the music for both Sunday night's and Monday night's dances.

Place Is Beauty Spot

Willow Beach, with better than 10 acres of land, with an enormous swimming pool with all modern conveniences, is located in Houston, Pa. Forty minutes' drive from Pittsburgh and even closer than that to thousands of people in the tri-state district; the place is a real "garden spot."

Weeping willow trees shade the walkways and picnic grove. Tiled hideaways and swings and hammocks placed in secluded spots, make it a place of real beauty. The ballroom, large enough to accommodate 1200 people, overlooks the miniature lake, and the cooling water breezes make the hall "air-conditioned."

The pool will easily accommodate 4,000 bathers, while live fish are in that part of the lake where boating is the sport.

It's a place worth going miles to see . . just for itself alone . . . and with the added inducements which are being presented over the holiday, it'll be the "spot of spots."

'ALICE ADAMS' IS PLAYING 'THE PENN'

An intensely interesting character study of life in a small midwestern community is presented by Katherine Hepburn in "Alice Adams," now showing at Loew's Penn. Its human interest should strike a responsive chord in the hearts of all.

The production achieves its triumph through the genius of Miss Hepburn, whose portrayal of a sensitive, ambitious daughter from a poor provincial family in the midwest is a triumph of subtle artistry rarely achieved by any star. Her gallant courage, her pathetic pretense to cover her heartaches at the snubs administered by the elite of the community, are portrayed with a finesse and dramatic repression which marks her as one with the outstanding actresses of the day.

The story is a screen version of the Booth Tarkington Pulitzer Prize novel of 1922, which was one of the most talked of books of its day. It has lost nothing of its charm and appealing human interest in its transition to the screen.

Its heroine is a young girl who fights for love and social recognition and wins a soul-satisfying victory over wealth and social barriers.

Outstanding characterizations mark the portrayals of others in the cast. Fred Stone gives a realistic interpretation of the badgered, hopeless father who sacrifices ethics in an effort to provide luxuries for his family. As the nagging, slovenly wife and mother, Ann Shoemaker stamps the character with convincing realism. Fred MacMurray, as the handsome gallant from the big city, meets all the requirements of good looks and masculine appeal required for the romantic lead opposite Miss Hepburn. Evelyn Venable capably plays her rival. Every character is finely drawn and capably acted by other members of the cast, including Frank Albertson, Hedda Hopper, Charles Grapewin, and Ann Shoemaker.

Good taste and understanding mark the direction of George Stevens, who has long been noted for his skill in handling human interest stories.

DUKE AT SAVOY LABOR DAY MORN

Duke Ellington, King of Jazz, and one of the most popular maestros in the minds of Pittsburgh dance-patrons, is coming back to this city of Steel and Bridges and good music-lovers!

With the beautiful, air-cooled Savoy Ballroom as the dance palace ideal and the magic hour of midnight on Sunday, September 1st, as the hour for the beginning of the inviting dawn dance, the return of his Royal Highness of Jazz is sure to be welcomed by hundreds of his admirers.

Starting promptly at 12:01 Sunday night, the affair will last until the dawn.

Duke will bring many new arrangements and members to Pittsburgh to introduce to the music-lovers here who are ardent admirers of his sweet and melodious type of syncopation.

Advance sale tickets, at reduced prices, are on sale at the Granada Theater and at the Lincoln Drug Store in East Liberty.

PYTHIAN TEMPLE, WHEN COMPLETED, TO BE SHOWPLACE

Contractors Making Gold and Silver Ballroom—New $500 Amplifying System to Be Installed.

"Pythian Temple, when completed, will be the finest and largest ballroom in Western Pennsylvania, with dancing capacity of 2,000 people, with amplifying systems on two floors and with interior decorations which will rank with the best."

This was the statement of Robert Ellis, president of the Ellis Amusement Company, who have taken over the building. The building, closed since August 1, will not open until the second week in September.

With a large crew of men working day and night, Ellis is busy getting his "date book" set and attending to the numerous details coincident with renovating the hall.

"Gold and Silver" Ballroom

The ballroom is being completely gone over. A modernistic checkroom has been installed on the second floor. The ballroom will carry out a "gold and silver" color scheme, with indirect lighting effects, a huge crystal ball and baby spot lights throwing their brilliance to every part of the place.

A modern fountain is also being installed, along with a luxurious lounge. The stage is being rebuilt to make it sound-proof. The floors on both the first and second floor will be sanded and re-waxed, to make of it the finest ballroom in this section of the country.

Big attractions are to be the order of the day.

Mr. Ellis has already contacted the New York agencies and promises to bring the outstanding orchestras of the country into the place.

Formal announcement of the opening date will appear in next week's issue of The Pittsburgh Courier. Watch for it.
