In spite of the fact that she was under contract, Mrs. Ida Henderson, an employee of Sportsmen's Paradise, Inc., a Great Lakes Exposition concession, was recently dismissed. As a result she has entered a suit for breach of contract. She names as managers Howard C. Kraus, Edward Schwartz and Harry J. Carr. There are several civil-rights suits pending against Sportsmen's Paradise, it is said, and Mrs. Henderson says she is charged with being responsible for the filing of one or more of them. The Sportsmen's Paradise is the Great Lakes Exposition concession that some weeks ago wrote a letter to Chester Gillespie, president of the local NAACP, disclaiming any acts of discrimination, etc., which he forwarded to our local race newspapers.
