

Children's Center To Present An All-Star Show At The Apollo

In an effort to give to Harlem one of its best benefit shows, the Boys' Advisory Committee and the Friends of the Harlem branch of the Children's Aid Society, have lined up what seems to be a Who's Who of Show Business for their benefit at the Apollo Theatre on Sunday, May 29th, at midnight.

Included among the orchestras scheduled to appear are Chick Webb and his orchestra with Ella Fitzgerald; "Stuff" Smith and Edgar Hayes and their sensational orchestras. Through the courtesy of WMCA come "Smilin" Jerry Baker, Roy Gobey, Don Kerry and Charlotte Buchwald. Outstanding among the talent this year are Harlem's favorite Duke Ellington, Anise and Alan, Aida Ward and the Four *Step Brothers. Dan Healy and the lovely Fredi Washington will also be on hand. Radio's newest sensation, Bob Howard, will appear and the Beale Street Boys from Jack White's Club 18.

The Tales From Harlem Radio Show will include Joe Bostic, Monette Moore, the swinging Palmer Brothers and Danny Jones. From Radio station WOR come Splicky Collins and Clarence Profit. WOR has also given its consent to allow other stars, whose names will be given next week, to appear.

Other sensational acts include the Plantation Club's Margot and Norton, Henry Wessells and Jackie Mabley. Also George Wiltshire, the talented Derby Wilson, Honey Coles, the newly organized Six Scotchmen, Savoy Lindy Hoppers, Burnham, Harris and Scott, Walter Richardson, Rubberlegs Williams, Washboard Serenaders, Harlem's juvenile wonders, Chuck and Chuckles, the three Sams, Johnny Berry, Duke Jenkins and Ernest Morman. From Small's Paradise and Dickie Wells cabarets will come a number of well known entertainers. Watts and his Kilowatts and Josephine Garrison will appear with Dickie's revue.

All in all it will be an all-star show that you won't want to miss.
