

Police to Quiz Arrested Man On Lane Theft

Sgt. Joseph McDonough of the Geneva police department and Deputy Benjamin Jones, Ontario county Sheriff's department, left last night for Scranton, Pa. in an effort to return a suspected burglar to Geneva.

The suspect is Kenneth Gerald Stevens, 27. Police believe he is the man who robbed the Lane service station of $800 cash on July 14.

Chief Daniel C. Murphy said today that, so far, Stevens has refused extradition. He said he wanted local officers to question the man any way. A warrant for Stevens' arrest was issued yesterday afternoon by Judge Thomas A. Kane in City court.

If the wanted man, now held on an open charge by Pennsylvania police, continues to refuse to be extradited, application will be made to the governor for extradition, Chief Murphy added.

When the local officers confer with the prisoner, now held in Lackawanna county jail, they may be able to clear up the mystery of why a man, believed to have been Stevens, chose to leap from a second story hotel floor here. The escape was made when police went to the hotel to check reports of a man seen loitering at the Lane station.

Stevens' name was found on clothing and baggage left in the Kirkwood hotel. Brooks Lane, proprietor of the Lane service station, gave a good description of the man. This description corresponded to Stevens' appearance, police said. His police record, which includes many pages of reports, was forwarded to the local department by the FBI.

Stevens was said to have been arrested at the home of his mother by Blacksly, Pa., police, at the request of the local department.

Democratic Club Urges Employment Of City Architect

Third Ward Democratic club worked on record favoring the employment of local architects for any school construction here and suggested that the city establish a municipal ambulance service. Club meeting was held at Commo's restaurant.

Plans were discussed for a dinner, tentatively scheduled for Sept. 17 with a local Democratic candidate for election as speaker, William Sparrow was named chairman of a committee to arrange for the dinner and speaker. He will select his committee members later.

The club recommended that study be given on the control of traffic at the intersection of John and State sts. at Geneva St. This study was requested for the safety of children going to school. The club felt that some sort of traffic control at this point was extremely necessary.

The group suggested that a plan for a city ambulance be studied. At present private ambulances only are available.

A motion was unanimously adopted that the Third Ward Democratic club recommend to the board of education that a local architect be employed "for the architectural designing of any new school built in Geneva, even though the cost of employment of a local architect is slightly higher."

3 Washington St., 3 Other Arrests Cost Drivers $69

Six arrests for speeding netted the city $69 yesterday afternoon. Three of these arrests were made on Washington St., the Hamilton St. detour.

Horton Lesser, 29, Lakeview, was ticketed by Motorcycle Ptm. Frank Verstraete at 5:30 p. m., charged with driving 50 miles an hour on Lake St. Lesser posted $13 non-appearance bail.

Nellie Sellin Mehr, 44, New York City, was arrested at the same time by the same officer on the same charge. She posted $13.

The following four motorists were ticketed by Motorcycle Ptm. Richard Stapleton.

George Donald Van Nort, 32, Kansas City, posted $13 forfeit bail following his arrest for allegedly driving 50 miles an hour on Washington St.

Francis Leo Joyce, 34, Albany, pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon before Judge Thomas A. Kane, to a charge of driving 50 miles an hour on North St. He paid a fine of $10.

Frank A. Benedict, 51, Syracuse, also pleaded guilty to driving 45 miles an hour on Washington St. He paid a $10 fine.

Bruce Carlton McCarthy, 30, Filmore, pleaded guilty to driving 45 miles an hour on Washington St. He paid $10.

REV. SIMON TO SPEAK

Rev. Esther Cleveland Simon, of Phelps, will give the opening sermon at the Church of the Open Bible, Lyons Rd., tomorrow night at 7:45. Special music will be heard.

Only about 40 remain of more than 3,000 Nunataglut Eskimos who once lived in northern Alaska.

Outnumbered, 6 New Requests Boost Fresh Air Plans Attack

Officers and men of Geneva's Co. L, New York National Guard, will face a tactical problem tomorrow on the shores of Seneca lake.

The "foe" will outnumber the guardsmen several dozen to one. But guard officers are confident their forces will engulf the opponents, a super-task force of thousands of clams.

The claims, to be readied for the attack in usual clamlike style, will have their zero hour some time after 10 a. m. tomorrow.

That 10 a. m. hour is when the guardsmen will leave the armory for the clamlike. This affair is one which annually precedes the guardsmen's departure for camp training. This year, they'll leave Aug. 5 for two weeks of summer training at Pine camp.

Inter-platoon baseball games are scheduled.

Co. L is still enlisting new members. Interested men between 17 and 35 years of age should report to the Armory.

Police Check Meagre Clues In Safe Theft

Police were working today on slim leads in the $20,000 stocks, bonds and cash daylight burglary from the office of David Gregory, 5 Seneca St. Thursday noon.

Efforts were made to locate the cash boxes and the envelopes in which the negotiable stocks, bonds and cash were placed. Chief Daniel C. Murphy declined to say whether the search was successful but added he had ordered the search in the hope that the intruder might have discarded them in his flight.

Largest single item taken was 115 shares of American Telephone and Telegraph Co. stock, valued at $150.25 per share. This totaled more than $17,000. Also taken, police said, was $3,100 worth of bonds and $310 in cash. These were from the Gregory office. It was also stated by police that the thief forcibly entered the law office of Walter Putziger, in the same building, where an expensive camera and a fountain pen were taken.

Duke Ellington Entertains 250 At Civic Center

Duke Ellington, band leader and "bop" star, made a personal appearance before 250 teen-age enthusiasts at the Civic center last night.

"They were a more appreciative audience than I'm accustomed to," the Duke said. His visit to the teen-age dance was arranged by Jimmy Legott, proprietor of Club 86.

With the Duke came sax-player Harry Carney and vocalist Chubby Dean. The band leader accompanied half a dozen saxophone soloists and songsters.

He complimented the Moonlighters, Geneva's teen-age set, on their music. The Duke insisted they sit on the bandstand while they played.

The dance was moved indoors at the Civic center after yesterday's rain. It had been scheduled for the tennis courts at Geneva High school.

About 120 youngsters spent the evening dancing to the music of the Moonlighters. The others came in when Duke Ellington arrived.

Modern-Age Runaway Goes On Wild Ride

Canandaigua, July 29—A runaway stagecoach nearly flattened a dog more than Canandaigua's new Main St. yesterday afternoon.

A Lane Construction Co. roller went out of control on N. Main St. when it slipped out of gear near Chapin St.

After a wild ride down one block, the operator made a fast turn into Coy St. and stopped the machine against the curb.

6 New Requests Boost Fresh Air Total to 20

Genevans have opened their homes to six more New York City Fresh Air children, due to arrive in Geneva on Aug. 4.

Geneva women who have climbed aboard the hostess wagon in the past several days include Mrs. Lesley Bagley, 118 Cherry St., who would like a girl about seven or eight years old; Mrs. Benjamin McChesney, 55 Colt St., a boy about 7-8; Mrs. Carl Robinson, Canandaigua Rd., re-inviting a girl who has been a guest at her home for the past several years, Marie Gregory.

Mrs. Robinson also is requesting a visit by Marie's sister, Angela Gregory.

The Misses Edith and Mary Wells, 75 Hamilton St., have provided funds for a girl about 6 or 7 years old for a two-weeks vacation here.

Mrs. Edmund Deloche, Preemption Rd., who previously had re-invited a boy she had last year, also would like to be hostess to a girl about 8.

The total of New York City youngsters to be given vacations in the Geneva area has now climbed to 20, according to Mrs. Nora Cochran, chairman of Zonta club, the sponsoring organization.

This year's welcome has broken an all previous records of the club and it is hoped that even more youngsters will be allowed to come to Geneva in the summer of 1951, she said.

Man Disappears From Roseland's Trailer Camp

Canandaigua, July 29—Police were searching today for a 70-year-old man reported missing this morning from the Roseland trailer camp here.

He is Frank L. Davis of Fairport. He and his wife were spending the weekend in a trailer at the camp. Mr. Davis was last seen walking east on the Geneva turnpike.

Police chief John M. Dunn said the man was wearing a light cap, black shoes, a wine-colored sweater and trousers when last seen. He is about five feet, nine inches tall, slender and weighs about 185 pounds.

City policeman Gerald Howes is investigating the disappearance.

Driver Sought After Accident Injures Two

Canandaigua state police are trying to get in touch with James Wiley, Auburn, who they said disappeared this morning after the car he was driving crashed into the side of a bridge north of Phelps.

Two passengers in the car were injured in the accident. It occurred at 4:30 a. m. today on route 88, one and a half miles north of Phelps. The car hit the side of the bridge.

Tpr. Irwin Hicks said Mrs. Ruby Easton, owner of the car, and George O'Hearn, both of Auburn, were taken to Clifton Springs sanitarium. O'Hearn suffered a black eye. Mrs. Easton received a possible leg fracture.

Tpr. Hicks said Wise was driving south when the car struck the east side of the bridge, bounced across the road, hit the west side of the bridge, and then turned completely around, heading north.

Former Genevan Honored at Picnic

Miss Mary Woodbridge, former resident of Geneva and visitor here now, was honored at a special picnic of Circle D of First Methodist church Thursday night.

The picnic was held by Mrs. Claude Heit and Mrs. Camp Cowan, in their backyards. About 24 attended.

Miss Woodbridge now lives in Carthage, Ind.

CLYDE MAN KILLED

Savannah, July 29—(AP)—Kermit Howell, 47, of Clyde, was killed today when his car skidded off a dirt road northeast of Savannah and overturned.

Cancer Cure May Come From Atom Experiment

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

London, July 29—(AP)—Bold new attempts to fight cancer with peacetime radioactive atoms from ovens were described yesterday to the sixth International Congress on radiology.

Radioactive gold is injected by needle into the abdomen to combat cancer which has spread through the area.

Radioactive or "hot" atoms of such common things as sodium, bromine or cobalt are put inside plastic bags which then are placed inside cancer-ridden bladders.

These uses of radioactive atoms—news to most American scientists—were reported by Dr. D. W. Smithers of London and Dr. J. H. Muller of Zurich, Switzerland.

Smithers told of injecting salt solutions of radioactive gold into the abdomens of five persons with advanced cancer. One woman had cancer of her ovaries. The ovaries were removed but the cancer had spread to new spots in her abdomen, which was painfully distended with fluid.

Injections of gold reduced the pain and swelling. Six months

Ontario Man, 29, Is First District Polio Case of 1950

A 29-year-old man is Ontario county's first polio victim of the year, New York state health department officers here said today. He is also the first to be stricken by the disease this year in the five-county state health district centered here.

Last year's first case was reported on Aug. 12. State health officials said they are not permitted to announce names and addresses of polio cases.

Last year, two cases occurred in Ontario county. Other cases reported in counties of the health district were: Seneca, 25; Yates, 8; and Schuyler, 2. District total was 37 cases.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said there have been fewer cases nationwide so far in 1950 than last year at this time. There were 5,151 reported up to July 22 this year.

Last year the national toll of infantile paralysis hit a record high. There were 5,233 cases reported up to July 22, 1949.

"The number of cases for 1950 cannot be predicted at this time with any accuracy," the foundation said.

Three Eligible For Canandaigua Postmastership

Canandaigua, July 29—The U. S. Civil Service commission yesterday certified three men as eligible for appointment as postmaster at Canandaigua.

They are Frank R. Cougevan, Robert E. Frederickson and Robert L. Mann. President Truman may now appoint one of the three to the job.

Mr. Cougevan is the acting postmaster. He was appointed in July, 1949, to succeed Albert J. Linehan. Mr. Linehan resigned in the face of government charges against him.

Before becoming postmaster, Mr. Cougevan was employed at the National liquor store on S. Main St. He and Mrs. Cougevan live at 675 S. Main St.

Mr. Frederickson lives on RD 8, Canandaigua. Mr. Mann is said to have left Canandaigua about two months ago. He was formerly manager of the Market Basket store on Main St.

Police Learn 'Lost' $1,800 Was Blind Man's

Waterloo, July 29—The $1,800, reported lost by Benjamin Buckley, 74, of Clyde Rd. in this area Wednesday, belongs to a blind man, it was revealed yesterday.

The money was the property of Floyd Fisk, elderly retired farmer with whom Buckley lives. Buckley told Sgt. Albert Dudden, Waterloo state police BCI, that he was concerned over leaving the money with Fisk because of his blindness.

Buckley reported to police that he lost the money sometime Wednesday afternoon while traveling from Waterloo to Geneva to Seneca Falls and home again.

Waterloo and Canandaigua state police, and Geneva police are investigating the reported loss.

The money, which Buckley said he carried in a white envelope, was $1,000 in $50-bills; $500 in 100-bills, and the balance in smaller bills.

Waves Again Stymie Anglers

Rough waters today again hampered area fishermen who have been shore-bound much of the week by high waves.

So far today, the following catches were registered at Tuttle's boat livery: Joe Madia, one trout and one perch; Dutch Monje, Newark, the trout limit and two big blackies.

Boats were out on the lake, but reports said conditions were not very good for fishing.

Former Genevan's Husband Passes

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd English, N. Exchange St., received word today of the sudden death Wednesday, in Orlando, Fla., of Everson Bryant. Mrs. Bryant is a niece of Mrs. English. She is the former Miss Phyllis Cole of Geneva.

The rare, or noble, gases are the elements helium, neon, argon, krypton, xenon and radon. All of which are chemically inert.

Retreat House Sold to Buffalo Industrialist

Geneva American Legion post's offer to buy the former retreat house on Lochland Rd. has been rejected, it was learned today. The property has been sold to a Buffalo industrialist.

The facts were learned by The Times today although there was no official confirmation of the completed sale.

Winnek post of the Legion made a "final" offer for the building and surrounding lakeside property about two weeks ago. Officials of the Catholic diocese of Rochester rejected this offer as they had rejected a previous bid by the Legion.

Sale of the property to the Buffalo man, it was understood, was made through the office of Mrs. Margaret B. Kraus, local broker. Mrs. Kraus, when contacted by The Times, said she could reveal no information of the sale until all details had been cleared.

The Times learned, however, that the purchaser is connected with an airplane factory in Buffalo. He will use the large frame house for a private home, it is believed.

Indications were that the purchase price was about $40,000 although this, also, was unconfirmed.

The Legion post had sought to buy the property as a future post home.

The retreat house has been unused for that purpose since last fall, when the Rochester diocese purchased a former school in Rochester. Retreats are now held there.

Memorial Service For Gen. Booth Planned Tomorrow

A special memorial service in honor of deceased General Evangeline Booth, will be conducted at the local Salvation Army citadel on Exchange St. tomorrow at 8 p. m.

Several of the general's musical compositions will be featured by the band and a vocal soloist. Major Alfred Mitson, retired Salvation Army officer, will assist in the service conducted by Major Nettie White.

General Evangeline Booth, who died recently, was the fourth daughter of Geneva William Booth, founder of the organization. She began her lifelong career in the Salvation Army as a child.

In 1904, Miss Booth was appointed to the national leadership of the Salvation Army in the United States, a post she held for 30 years. She revolutionized the financial system of the army. During World War I, she placed the whole resources of the army at the disposal of the government.

She conducted Evangelical campaigns in Japan, England, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, France, India and Germany.

Miss Booth retired and returned to the United States of which she was a citizen, in 1939. She was a prolific composer and musician and wrote a number of articles for leading publications during her retirement.

Many honors were accorded General Evangeline Booth. They included medals, honorary degrees and other distinctions.

The public is invited to attend her memorial service.

Robins to Aid Baseball Clinics On Playgrounds

Baseball clinics will mark the formation of a new league for Geneva youngsters on the city playgrounds Monday afternoon, Youth Bureau director Joseph Caverly said today.

Mr. Caverly said members of the Geneva Robins baseball team have been asked to teach at the clinics. They will be held on six playgrounds at 2 p. m.

Playground leaders Tom Jackson, John Foley, John Riley and Dick Rugg will coach at Wight school, North St., Nieder park and Gulvin park. The Robins will be asked to teach at spots where there is no male leader.

Washington and Jefferson, and North and Richards playgrounds have combined their teams. Another may be formed at the Dixon homes playground.

Boys 14 and under will be eligible to play. A full schedule of games will get underway next week, Mr. Caverly said. An all star team will be picked at the end of the season.

Chief protectors, masks and other equipment will be provided by the Youth Bureau, Mr. Caverly said.

Police Investigate Loss of $500 Ring

Geneva police today were investigating the reported theft of a $500 platinum ring containing a one-carat diamond.

Loss of the ring was reported this morning by Mrs. Isabel Sandborn, Erie, Pa.

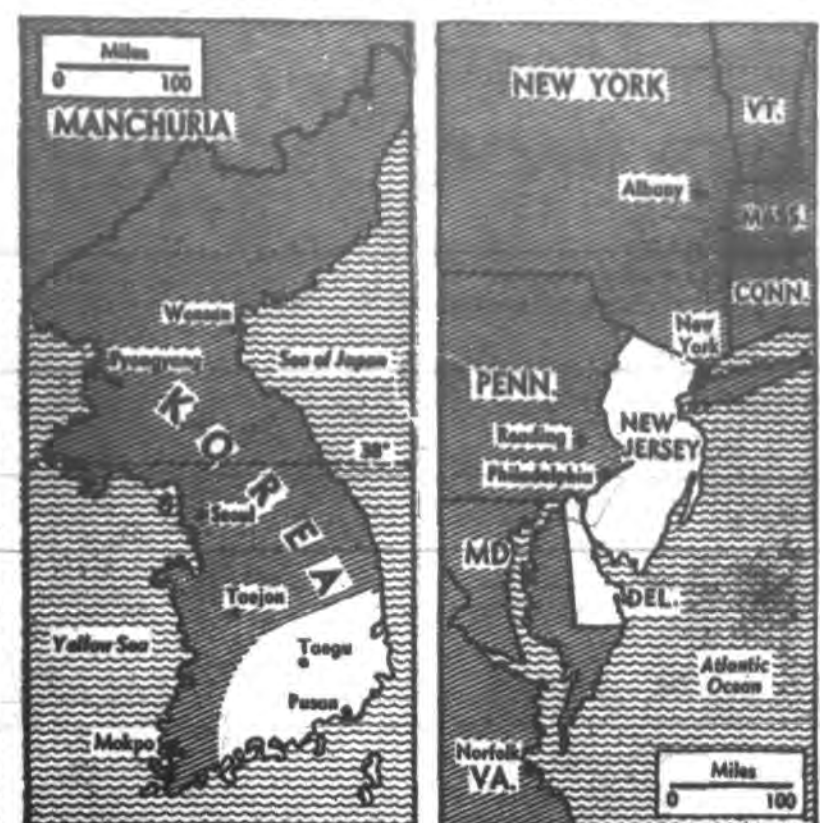

Visiting here, Mrs. Sandborn was staying at a local hotel, police said. The ring was in a ringbox in her luggage, she told local officers. She did not discover the loss until after returning to her home in Erie. She then contacted Geneva officials.

Chief Daniel C. Murphy assigned Ptm. Rupert Raymer to investigate.

What's Left in Korea

After a month of war in Korea, United Nations forces held an area (white on map, left) of about 10,000 square miles on the southern corner of the peninsula. This compares with the combined areas of New Jersey and Delaware, which total approximately 9000 square miles.

Sticks by His 'No'- Dewey Deaf to Party's Pleas That He Run Again

Albany, July 29—(AP)—Republican sources said this week that Governor Dewey was standing firm against growing party pressure that he change his mind and run for re-election.

They said Dewey also was adamant in dismissing proposals that he become the GOP candidate for U. S. senator next fall.

Two foreboding "a very outside possibility" that Dewey might run for governor, not senator. They said he could win.

Since the Korean fighting brought on a world crisis, there have been increasing Republican calls for Dewey to run for office again.

The only recent suggestion not drawing a flat no from Dewey, the party sources reported, was whether he would accept a major role in the national defense program. If President Truman called on him.

Dewey reportedly said that he would not prefer it.

But one highly placed Republican wondered aloud how Dewey could refuse such a call in time of national emergency.

The same Republican speculated, however, that an offer from the president was unlikely unless the United States was in a shooting war with Russia.

Dewey announced June 17 that he would not seek reelection as governor. Renomination was his for the taking but he said he was very tired after nearly 20 years in public life and half-a-dozen major political campaigns. He has been bothered by bursitis in his right shoulder.

Dewey was taken at his word. Most party leaders quickly pledged their support to Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley for the gubernatorial nomination.

Hanley formally announced his candidacy June 19. He has been pledged enough support to win the nomination at the GOP state convention Sept. 6-7 at Saratoga Springs.

Some Republicans, who were not expected to be disappointed by Dewey's decision to retire, feel now that in view of possible crisis times ahead Hanley's age—74—might work against GOP chances in the Nov. 7 election.

The New York Young Republican club demanded on July 19 that Dewey run again "because of the Korean crisis and possible spread of hostilities." The group said Dewey's leadership in World War I showed his fitness "for coping with problems arising out of international emergencies."

The club urged the GOP state chairman, Rep. William L. Pfeiffer, and all 82 county chairmen, to join a draft-Dewey movement.

Pfeiffer has been reported as saying privately that Dewey's answer was still no.

The New York Herald Tribune, in an editorial Monday, called on Dewey to reconsider because "the state needs his services."

The paper cited Dewey's prompt action in launching a far-flung civilian defense organization in the state under Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

U. S. Senator Wayne L. Morse (R-Ore.), speaking at a GOP school of politics at Hamilton college Monday, urged the Republican party to "do everything possible" to retain Dewey's "leadership both at state and national levels."

In reply to a recent urging by a party leader that he run again, Dewey had retorted that New York state had gotten along nicely for 160 years without him and could do it again.

Again, when informed of strong draft-Dewey sentiment among young Republicans, the governor reportedly commented that he would not be available.

Dewey himself has said on several occasions there was no such thing as a real draft movement in politics. And he has implied that there was no indispensable man in politics.

With one exception, Dewey has not commented publicly on the new move aimed at his renomination and reelection.

At a recent luncheon in connection with the opening of a section of the state thruway, a speaker urged Dewey to reconsider his decision to step out.

In the course of his subsequent remarks concerning the thruway, Dewey said he would not be governor when it was completed—in 1953 or 1954.

One high-ranking Republican, pointing to the international crisis, said the Republicans might win or lose the state election this year on their choice for U. S. senator.

He favored Dewey for the nomination, saying Dewey's presence on the ticket would insure vic-

Keuka Cottages Hit by Blast; People Unhurt

Penn Yan, July 29—Several cottages on the east side of Keuka lake had narrow escapes from injury Thursday afternoon when a misfired explosion of dynamite showered their cottages with rocks and debris.

The dynamite was being used by an employee of the Bero Construction Co. on a project to widen the upper eastside road from Hammondport to Keuka.

The blast, intended to blow toward some woods, reversed its force, throwing debris on the cottages 200 feet away.

A 40-pound rock went through the roof of one cottage, demolishing a bed. Another jagged stone tore a sweater on which an unidentified boy had been lying on the lawn just before the blast. Automobile roofs, windows, and other structures were damaged by the hail of rocks.

Company officials told Archie Sich, Hammondport police chief that the company insurance would cover the damage caused. They said repairs to the cottages have been started.
