

LET'S GO DANCING

Monroe Starts Canobie Series

By EDDIE RUGG

One of the great take-ins of this early summer was the May 28th date up at Canobie Lake Ballroom as Vaughn Monroe returned to the ballroom fronts. This was the first in a series of limited engagements for Vaughn; and, incidentally, the first of the top-flight "name" attractions which Maurice Holland has slanted for his delightful New Hampshire ballroom. June finds Jerry Gray and Ralph Flanagan with Canobie dates, with Freddy Martin due July 31. For the big 4th attraction, Maurice has scored heavily with the appearance of Guy Lombardo. Even Canobie's 6000 capacity may be tested that night. Freddy Sateriale Saturday.

Across the way at Hampton Beach, John Dineen similarly may contemplate an engagement pad chock-full of great bands for the Casino. This Saturday it's the fine V. E. favorite, Ted Herbert, with the Four Aces due on the 9th. The grandest music in the Casino's 27-year history here in '54.

The May 30th eve festivities at Roseland-Taunton make the music-lover sit up and take notice. From midnight to 4 it's a battle of bands with Duke Ellington and Russ Morgan, two of the most popular maestros ever to play N. E.

Cindy Lord Rhodes Ted Herbert Hampton Casino Hammie Moore Starlight Kitty Kallen Totem Pole

Also ancient visiting celebrities, we point out that Rhodes stars the Johnny Long band next Wednesday, follows up with the great Ray Anthony June 5. Two tremendous attractions for the R. I. spot. M-G-M artist Cindy Lord Saturday, backed by the Ed Drew group. While at the Totem Pole recording star Kitty Kallen appears for the week-end—on Friday with Russ Morgan, tonight with Freddy Guerra.

Of highest interest to Bostonians was last night's opening of Kimball's Starlight. Flamme Moore will offer week-end dancing for a few weeks, then launch into a dancing-evening-night program. The Glenn Allen rhythm. . . . Intown, Danny Forlizzi features Perry Borrelli's band at the Boston Ballroom Saturday. You'll find the comfort and convenience of this smart hostelry.

At the smart King Phillip, the rush of spring weather will find a jam-packed house for this week-end, set for the excellent tune-spinning of Jesse Smith. No more charming a spot for that important evening-out.

George Horwood moves in for a Saturday stand with his popular band at the Bradford Saturday. You'll like this. . . . Paul Adams, to be sure, at Revere's Crescent Gardens. A grand pleasure for your old-time dancing.

A bright holiday eve attraction set for Arcadia Ballroom, Providence, this Sunday. Arnett Cobb plus The Checkers make this a gay take-in.

MIDNIGHT SHOW AT OLD HOWARD

A special holiday eve midnight show Sunday night, will take place at the Old Howard. The feature stage attraction is Pat "Amber" Holliday. She is supported by Al Rio, uproarious comedian; Barbara Blair, dancer; Jack Palmer, musical novelty; Wallace Bros., acrobatic act from the Palladium in London; Ginger Lynne, the rhythm girl, and the Buddy Thomas dancing line of girls.
