Sport Sweater Separates

By Judy Love

Know what's news in fashion for fall? You knitters will really be in style, because almost everything that's new and newsy is knit. Sweaters, coats, caps and more sweaters.

To get you going on the right needle track, I suggest you start with a snappy sweater set. Sweater-setting is at its best in a skinny top pullover and matching cardigan.

These super sport separates are versatile, mix-and-match additions to any girl's casual wardrobe in sizes 8 to 14. Wear the skinny shrink pullover vest over a blouse or turtleneck with or without the cardigan. A knitted dress becomes a two-piece suit worn with the cardigan jacket sweater.

This delightful duo is easily worked on size 6 and size 4 needles with finishing touches done with a size 0 crochet hook.

The sleeveless pullover vest works up easily in body-hugging stockinette with a patterned stitched bodice and a scooped-out neckline. The waistline is nipped in for a trim look in snug ribbing.

The cardigan completes the two-piece look worked in the same easy stockinette with patterned stitched bodice, shoulders and raglan sleeve tops. The neckline, button-front and bottom edging and sleeve cuffs are all ribbed for a neat finished custom-made look.

You'll really be pleased with the way the new Spectator sport weight yarn from Bear Brand, Fleisher or Botany works up into your two-piece sweater combo. All you'll need are three to four two-ounce balls of yarn for the shrink and eight to nine two-ounce balls for the cardigan depending on size.

Make your next knit venture this wear-with-all sweater set. Easy to follow directions are available by just sending 50 cents to Stitchin' Time, c/o your local paper, Radio City, Box 503, New York, N.Y. 10019. Just ask for leaflet S374 and be sure to include your name, address and zip code.

KNIT KNACKS

Dear Judy: My 13-year-old daughter has just asked me to embroider "Pirates" on her white wool turtleneck. That's the name of her school's football team which she'll be cheerleading for this fall. Can you give me a simple method for duplicating the team name for her? Thanks very much. — Sweater sets are something special this fall. The latest news on the fashion-knit scene is this smashing combo to work in sizes 8 to 14.

A. N., Pearl River, N.Y.

Dear A. N.: Duplicate stitches are often used over stockinette knit sweaters to embroider a design or name. The duplicate stitch is a copy of the stockinette stitch and thus can be used as a mending stitch as well, for future reference.

Insert a blunt-edge tapestry needle from the wrong side of the sweater through the center of the V stockinette stitch. Work over the left and right diagonal lines of that stitch. It's very simple. Just be careful not to pull the stitches too tightly so the work doesn't pucker.

Good luck to the Pirates and to you in your knitting. — Judy

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Bankruptcy: A Clean Slate?

Almost two billion dollars in debts will be wiped out this year in the nation's bankruptcy courts. Almost one American in every 1,000 will take this means of "getting out from under."

Most of them will emerge with a clean slate. However, there are certain kinds of obligations that bankruptcy does not touch. The most important are:

1) Taxes less than three years old. This includes taxes owed to federal, state, or local governments.

2) Debts based on family obligations. This includes alimony and child support.

3) Debts based on a written false financial statement. Suppose, for example, that in obtaining a personal loan you deceived the lender by purposely understating your liabilities. Under these circumstances, you would ordinarily remain liable for the loan even after going through bankruptcy.

4) Debts based on "willful and malicious" injury inflicted on persons or property. Usually this involves liability for causing an automobile accident. Thus:

A drunken driver, travelling at high speed on a rainy night, swerved across the double line and smashed into an oncoming car. Held liable afterward in damages, he sought refuge in bankruptcy. But a court said bankruptcy did not wipe out this debt, because his driving was not just negligent but "willful and malicious."

Non-auto injuries may also be considered willful and malicious. In another case, a man allowed his vicious bulldog to run free even after it had bitten three pedestrians. When a fourth victim went to court and won a sizeable verdict, the dog's owner tried to escape through bankruptcy.

But again, a court held him still liable. The judge said bankruptcy laws were meant to protect the hapless debtor, not the malicious wrongdoer.

COOKING IS FUN

FAMILY DINNER
Veal Cutlets Potatoes
Green Beans with Cheese Sauce
Salad Bowl French Bread
Pineapple Rings Beverage
GREEN BEANS WITH CHEESE SAUCE
A delicious and nutritious dish.

- 1 pound snap beans
 - 1 cup boiling water
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 2 tablespoons butter
 - 2 tablespoons flour
 - 1 cup milk
 - 1 cup grated (medium-fine) sharp cheddar cheese
 - White pepper to taste
- Tip beans and scrub in cold water; cut in 1-inch crosswise slanted pieces; boil with boiling water and salt in a covered saucepan just until tender-crisp — about 10 minutes; drain and keep warm. Make a white sauce of the butter, flour and milk; off heat stir in cheese until melted and pepper; mix with beans. Reheat quickly but do not boil or let stand over heat so sauce won't thin. Before serving, if desired, sprinkle with extra cheese. Makes 6 servings.
