N. H. AND VERMONT CLUBS HOLD OUTING

Fitchburg and Gardner Groups Enjoy Joint Picnic At Lake Dennison

One of the most satisfactory outings yet given by the Fitchburg New Hampshire and Vermont association, took place yesterday afternoon, at a joint meeting with the Gardner Vermont association at Lake Dennison in Winchendon, about 150 enjoying a perfect day, swimming, basket lunches, refreshments served by the Fitchburg club which was the host, and sports.

Private cars left Moran square at 1 o'clock, going in a group to the lake. Transportation was arranged by Frank W. Lesure, Ralph A. Stevens and Roland Spaulding.

Though the day seemed ordered specially for the outing, it was nevertheless a little too warm for the elaborate schedule of sport events. Consequently the only sports aside from swimming that created any enthusiasm were horseshoe pitching and a baseball game for five innings.

All sports were in charge of Edwin N. Ordway's committee including Roland A. Bacon and William Moody. The two events were participated in by the men only.

Fitchburg challenged Gardner to the baseball game and started off big on the way to a win over the Gardner club. The final score, however, was in favor of Gardner, which won the hectic five innings 6 to 4. Fitchburg scored four runs in the second inning and none in the first. Gardner scored three runs in the first and three in the second. There were 8 hits for Fitchburg and 10 for Gardner. Batteries for Fitchburg were Ordway and Bacon in the first three innings, and Crossett and Ordway in the last two. For Gardner the batteries were Bone and Phelps in the first two innings, and the last three Phelps and Kelser.

Fitchburg won at horseshoes 3 games out of 4.

There were six guests from Worcester. A suggestion was made that Worcester should take part in the next mid summer outing of the associations.

THREATENING BLAZE IN EARLY MORNING

Sparks From Stove Believed To Have Ignited Lumber In Canton Street Cellar

Sparks from a stove in the cellar of a house owned and occupied by Catello Romano, off Canton street, started a brisk fire in a lumber pile and resulted in Box 67 being sounded at 2.10 o'clock this morning. The fire was confined to the cellar but the department was obliged to use a line of hose and two tank lines before the danger was over.

The stove was used yesterday to heat water to wash clothes and Chief Hyatt believes that a spark or two jumped from the fire in the stove to a large pile of loose lumber in the cellar. The sparks probably smouldered for hours in the lumber and small pieces of wood. In the early morning hours it developed into what promised to be a serious fire.

The occupants of the house were aroused by the smoke and crackling of the flames. The department made a quick run and centered its efforts in keeping the fire in the lumber and cellar. The flames started to creep into the upper part of the house and were making much headway when the firemen arrived. Chief Hyatt located the "key" spot of the danger and soon stopped the flames' advance.

Hose 4 remained at the fire until about 4 o'clock at which time the firemen and a son of the owner made a tour of the place and found everything apparently normal. The youth said he would remain on watch and call the firemen if the fire broke out again. He fell asleep and just before 6 o'clock awoke and saw flames again, this time on the stairs. He summoned Hose 4 and they made another trip to the house and put out the blaze before it got a real start.

LEGER NOT GUILTY

Leominster Man Acquitted On Charge of Driving Car While Drunk

Claude L. Leger, Leominster, was found not guilty of operating an automobile in Lunenburg, June 26 while under the influence of liquor and failing to stop when ordered by a policeman. Discharge came after a long trial before Judge T. F. Gallagher in district court today.

The defendant was represented by Atty. J. H. P. Dyer of Leominster. Chief J. L. Harrington of Lunenburg presented the evidence for the government. Both sides had official stenographers who took a complete report of the trial. There were several witnesses on both sides. Officers T. J. Charron, Horace Jewitt and A. Q. Emerson were among the witnesses for the government as well as others who dwelt on various phases of the complaint.

The government contended that Leger was at Whalom park on the date named in the complaint and attracted the attention of Officers Charron and Jewett who testified he was unsteady on his feet, staggered, that his eyes were glaring and his face was red. They said he was under the influence of liquor. They watched him. He talked to various persons and walked from outside the dance hall through the grove to the lake road, back into the grove, up to the dance hall and back to the road where he, another man and two girls got into an automobile, they said.

The policemen said that Leger got at the wheel and drove the car away although Officer Charron testified he got into the middle of the road, held up his hand and shouted to the driver to stop. Instead of stopping the operator drove right at the officer who had to jump into the gutter to avoid being struck, the officer said. The driver stepped on the gas and drove to Fitchburg. The officers followed in another car but were unable to locate him. The girls lived in this city.

The government contended there was no mistake in the identity of the operator who wore a light suit. Officer Charron said he had known the defendant for years and recognized him as he drove past.

The defendant denied operating the automobile or of being under the influence of liquor. Witnesses bore out his claim. They denied that Mr. Leger drove and also said it was so dark at the time that it would have been impossible for an officer to tell who drove the car.

Francis Damon testified that he operated the car from Whalom and that the defendant did not take the wheel at any time.

The above group is composed of the directors of Fitchburg's eight municipal playgrounds for the present season, together with Superintendent John P. Kilmartin, who has general charge of the activities. Under their direction 3000 children every week are indulging in baseball, volleyball, flatball, quoits and other sports, participating in costume parties, community sings and story hours.

In general they are having a first class time, and the directors are enjoying it as much as their young charges. The above picture was taken at Lowe playground.

City Has Hard Job In Selling Fire Wagons

Who wants to buy two fire wagons? The complete motorization of the fire department left Chief Hyatt with two perfectly good fire vehicles on his hands. He had no trouble getting rid of the horses which responded to alarms until supplanted by the motor driven apparatus, but the demand for the wagons is not so great. The wagons were turned over to Fred Willard yesterday and it is understood he will sell them for the department—if he can.

Jitney Committee of Boston Council Again Approves Hart Petition

Yesterday, for the third time, the jitney committee of the Boston city council approved a bus petition from Hart, this time for a line to Albany by way of Fitchburg and Littleton. Two previous petitions approved by the council have been vetoed by Mayor Nichols on the grounds that the proposed lines would compete with railroads. One of these was for a line to Albany and the other to Keene, N. H. The new proposed route is a combination in some respects of the features of the other two.

WARRANTS FOLLOW TWO MEN TO JAIL

Pair Sentenced In Lawrence For Passing Worthless Checks Wanted Here

Hyman Field and Dixie Coe, who are alleged to have passed a series of worthless checks on automobile dealers from Pittsburg to Lawrence and are wanted here for uttering forged checks on T. B. Matthews, have been sentenced to jail for nine months for passing worthless checks in Lawrence, where they were arrested. The warrants from this city have been forwarded to Lawrence by Inspector B. H. Flaherty and will follow the men to the jail to be served when they complete their sentence or are released.

The police allege that Field and Coe arrived in this city on July 15 and about 4 o'clock in the afternoon called at the Matthews' automobile agency at 31 Main street. They selected a truck and paid a deposit of $160 by check drawn on the Fitchburg Bank & Trust company and signed by Field.

They did not take the truck but promised to call later with the money to complete the deal. As they were leaving they bought various automobile tools and presented a check for $48.65 drawn on the Safety Fund National bank and made payable to H. Field. It was signed by N. Nundling. The bill for the merchandise amounted to $10.50 and they received the merchandise and $38.15 in change.

The checks came back with the information that there were no such accounts at the banks and never had been.

The men jumped from this city to Lawrence where they tried a similar trick and were caught as they went to a second automobile agency after working the stunt in the first.

GARDEN CLUB MEMBERS ON TOUR

Members of the Fitchburg Garden club made a tour of inspection of gardens in Leominster, Fitchburg and Westminster Wednesday afternoon and in spite of the extremely warm weather five automobiles were used to convey the party to the various gardens.

The first visit was made at the garden of Miss Fannie Flint, School street, Leominster, where there is a most artistic arrangement of the garden beds, thence to the garden of Miss Florence Miller, Washington street, where Japanese iris and other flowers are at their best.

The gardens of Dr. E. F. Lincoln and Mrs. George E. Lincoln, both on Union street, were also visited, roses being in profusion in these gardens.

From there the party returned to Fitchburg and visited the garden of Mrs. William D. Parkinson, Highland ave., where there are to be found many of the newer annuals and the beautiful artistic garden of Mrs. Barlow Crocker on Prospect street.

From here the party proceeded to Westminster and inspected the garden of Miss Hemmiam, who is specializing in cultivating wildings and the garden of W. E. Putney which is most beautiful just now with regal lilies, nerennials and a great variety and interesting rock features.

AUTOMATIC TRAIN STOP IN OPERATION

Boston To Fitchburg Is First Section of B. & M. To Have New System

On the B. & M. R. R. line from Boston to Fitchburg, is in operation today the new automatic train stop, an electrically operated device, completed as far as Fitchburg Saturday, and thus far on no other line of the B. & M. System.

This new automatic control will stop a train if it goes by a signal set against it, through negligence of the engineer, sickness or death of the engineer, or for any other cause, infallibly as many tests have demonstrated. Air brakes are set automatically by the new device and the engine comes to a stop smoothly, and quickly.

When the installation is completed the device will be in operation as far as East Deerfield. It is expected that all branches of the B. & M. R. R. will ultimately be equipped with this new safety measure.

TWO MORE AUTOS LOOTED, DESERTED

Cars Plundered of Most All Accessories Found At Paradise and Ward's Ponds

Automobiles stripped of everything removable have been found at Paradise Pond and also at Ward's pond. The one at Paradise pond has been identified as the property of Frederick Bansil, 37 No. Ashland street, Worcester, who had not made any report of its disappearance to the Worcester police when Sergt. Wallace notified them of it being abandoned here.

The other car has not been identified as the number plates have been removed and the engine number scratched. The cars have been stripped by exports who took the tires, motor meter, and various other accessories. Both cars were abandoned in out of the way places so that the crooks had plenty of time to strip the cars before deserting them.
